

I'd like to introduce this evening's Auctioneer, Dr. Nicholas Sanders.

He's probably a familiar face to most of you because he donates his time as a certified auctioneer to a multitude of charitable events throughout the year.

Nick does have a day job. He holds a doctorate in clinical psychology and is a seasoned business consultant, public speaker and employee trainer. Log on to "meetnicksanders.com" for more information.

Nick and his wife Erin are the proud parents of triplets, so now you know what he does on his "off time."

Please give Nick Sanders a warm welcome.
